In this ever-changing industry, our job is to ensure that you have all of the necessary tools to help you and your clients make educated decisions. We work hard to put you, the producer, in the best possible position to succeed in every situation. Whether you're looking for well-known top carrier names or a special niche application, we offer a variety of solutions to provide you with the perfect mix for each case.

Working with Adams-Moore is like having your own back-office staff of experienced professionals who understand what agents want and how they think. Our staff will aggressively provide support with your clients' applications and your carrier contracts, reviewing them for accuracy and clarity. Taking care of the fine details, we expedite the process allowing you to concentrate on what you do best – selling!

“

I have worked with at least 5 wholesalers in my career. I chose Adams-Moore, LLC because they are responsive and intelligent. I never had to worry about my cases once they received my application. When I call for product information, I get the right answer the first time. They are truly like my own paid back office staff - except I don't have to pay them!”

—Jerry D.,
Winston-Salem, NC

“

We are a recruiting MGA, but prefer to go through Adams-Moore because they do a better job at case management than my own staff did. I reduced my staff of new business associates, increased my override, and now I make twice the money I was making before.”

—Arthur M.,
Hampton, VA
